

Read-Around Review: aud, son, phon

I have the first card. Who has the roots that mean sound or to hear?	I have the word phonograph. Who has the word that describes the sound portion of a television program or movie?
I have the roots aud, son, and phon. Who has the word that names the method used by submarines to maneuver within the ocean by using sound waves?	I have the word audio. Who has the word that describes something that is within your range of hearing?
I have the word sonar. Who has the word that identifies a type of poetry in which the lines sound like specific rhyming styles?	I have the word audible. Who has the word that names the room where people go to see a performance, such as the play Peter and the Wolf?
I have the word sonnet. Who has the word that describes a loud and often disturbing sound?	I have the word auditorium. Who has the word that identifies a string of words that use similar sounds?
I have the word cacophony. Who has the word that names how a group of people sound when they are all singing together as if they were one person?	I have the word assonance. Who has the word that means to vibrate or repeat a sound, often in a harmonious way?
I have the word unison. Who has the word that identifies the device that reproduces sound (also known as a record player)?	I have the word resonate. Who has the first card?